Campaign Overview

Elders Batemans Bay operates as a rural property, livestock and farm supplies agency serving Batemans Bay and the wider Eurobodalla Shire on the NSW South Coast. Across 2026 you partnered with ARN on the Sponsorship of 2EC's This Week in Music, placing your name alongside a programme feature that local listeners come back to week after week. The campaign ran under contract 273772 from January 2026 through to September 2026, with the first spot airing on 26 January and the last on 15 September. Delivery was split evenly across 2EC Bega and Power FM, giving you reach into both the heartland AM/regional audience and the younger contemporary FM audience across the same footprint. The audience brief was clear throughout: local landholders, farmers, and property buyers and sellers across the Eurobodalla.

In total, 677 spots were broadcast across 173 broadcast days, delivering 5 hours, 38 minutes and 30 seconds of airtime for Elders Batemans Bay. The schedule comprised 508 BMAD sponsorship spots (75.0%) and 169 Bonus BTA spots (25.0%), with station delivery split almost exactly down the middle — 339 spots on Power FM and 338 on 2EC Bega. Dayparts were spread deliberately across the broadcast day: Afternoon 217, Morning 178, Breakfast 143, Drive 117 and Evening 22, which put your message in front of listeners on the property, in the ute and on the run between Batemans Bay, Moruya and Narooma. Monthly delivery was remarkably consistent at 80 spots in January, February, March, April, June, July and August, 79 in May and 38 in the part month of September. That steady rhythm is what builds a brand into the background of a market rather than spiking and disappearing.

The Value of Radio Advertising

Presence where landholders actually are. Radio reaches around 17 million Australians each week, and it does so in the car, at work and at home — the three places your audience spends its day. For farmers and rural property owners covering distance across the Eurobodalla, in-vehicle listening is often the only media they consume during working hours. Your 117 Drive and 143 Breakfast spots were positioned squarely in those travel windows.

Local trust transfers to you. Local radio carries high trust in regional markets, and sponsorship of an established programme feature borrows that standing rather than interrupting it. Being read into This Week in Music on 2EC and Power FM associates Elders Batemans Bay with content listeners have chosen, not content they have tolerated.

Frequency builds the shortlist. Rural property and livestock decisions are made infrequently but considered for a long time. With 677 spots across 173 broadcast days, Elders Batemans Bay was present across roughly every second day of the campaign period — which is how a name becomes the first call when a landholder finally decides to sell, buy or restock.

Two stations, one footprint. Splitting delivery 339 spots to Power FM and 338 to 2EC Bega covered two distinct listening habits within the same South Coast catchment. That matters for an agency talking to both established landholders and the next generation of buyers entering the market.

Seasonal messaging without seasonal gaps. Agricultural and property calendars move month to month, and radio lets you change copy quickly while the schedule keeps running. Delivery held at 79–80 spots every month from January to August, giving you a stable platform to talk sale season, listings or farm supply lines as the year turned.

Summary & Recommendations

Across the January to September 2026 campaign, Elders Batemans Bay received 677 spots over 173 broadcast days, totalling 5 hours, 38 minutes and 30 seconds of airtime on 2EC Bega and Power FM. You paid for 508 spots at $30.00 each, for a total investment of $15,240.00 excluding GST. On top of that, 169 bonus spots were delivered free of charge — 33.3% more airtime than was paid for — worth $8,957.00 at the published ratecard of $53.00 per spot. Combined, the schedule carried a total ratecard value of $35,881.00, an ROI multiple of 2.35x on your investment, and an effective cost of $22.51 per paid spot against the $53.00 ratecard, or 58% below card.

- 1. Lock the same programme position. Sponsorship value compounds when the association stays put, and Elders Batemans Bay has now held This Week in Music across 173 broadcast days. We recommend securing the same position for 2027 early, before the sponsorship inventory is committed elsewhere.
 - 2. Weight Breakfast and Drive harder. Evening delivered only 22 spots and contributed least to a working rural audience, while Breakfast (143) and Drive (117) sat in prime in-vehicle listening. Reallocating that Evening weight into Breakfast and Drive would put more of your schedule in front of landholders travelling the Princes Highway corridor.
 - 3. Rotate copy by season. With a schedule running at roughly 80 spots per month, you have the frequency to support three or four distinct creative messages a year — livestock and saleyard activity, farm supply lines, and rural listings and appraisals. Fresh copy every quarter keeps the same airtime working harder without additional spend.
 - 4. Extend to a full twelve months. September 2026 delivered 38 spots as a part month, and the schedule closed on 15 September. Carrying the programme through October to December would maintain presence into the spring and pre-Christmas period, when South Coast property enquiry and holiday-season traffic through the Eurobodalla both lift.
